

An Invitation to Help Your Library

The Socorro Public Library Board of Trustees focuses public attention on the library, stimulates the use of the library's resources and develops library services and facilities for the community. To meet those objectives, the Board is selling handmade, white, unglazed clay tiles decorated with local Native American petroglyphs. Your unique tile will be added to the permanent display in the Southwest Room.

The funds received from the sale of these tiles goes to help the library purchase items such as:

- Custom-built furnishings
- Display shelving
- RIF books

Southwest Artist Karlene Voepel will select from her repertoire of local Southwest Native American designs.

Along with a design, she will include on the tile any name you request.

Please print the name clearly in capital letters below.
